

TONY SHOOT – SHOOTING SCRIPTS

World Pools Inc – San Diego – Date: TBD (target: within 7 days of Victor shoot)

5 testimonial cuts. Tony is the talent. Peter is the prompter. Audience for ALL ads (per Fathom strategy lock): high-ticket home service contractors in San Diego County (GCs, HVAC, roofers, remodels, plumbing, hardscape, pools). We don't single out one trade in copy. Tony is the visual + verbal proof. The message addresses every contractor.

WHY THIS SHOOT IS SEPARATE

Tony has been a Scale SD client long enough to have real measurable results — busy calendar, real revenue, "too busy to count" verbatim. Testimonials require something to testify to.

Today's other shoot (Victor at his Vista bathroom remodel) handles the Peter solo cuts + Victor "day 1" intro. Tony's shoot adds the 5 testimonial cuts that need real proof.

The two shoots combine in edit. Together they produce 6-7 launch-ready ads.

QUICK REFERENCE TABLE

#	Cut name	Format	Length	Talent

PRE-SHOOT CHECKLIST (Dani, before leaving)

- ☐ Tony confirmed availability and pool site address pinned in Slack
 - ☐ Tony signed photo/video release
 - ☐ Tony's actual location (city) confirmed for use in scripts
 - ☐ Pool site is at a stage with VISIBLE WORK (rebar, tile, water, deck, equipment) — not just a hole in the ground
 - ☐ Tony's brand tagline confirmed (for Cut 10) — if none, we use one of 3 substitutes
 - ☐ Camera, gimbal, DJI Mic 2 lavs + WIND COVERS (foam covers, outdoor pool site = wind risk), headphones, hard hats, SD cards
 - ☐ Peter's phone fully charged — has actual GHL lead numbers + texts pulled up for fact-check moments in Cuts 1 + 2
 - ☐ Drive folder created: `/SCALE/Ads/{shoot-date}-Tony-WorldPools/raw/`

ROLES

Person	Job
Dani	Camera operator, audio, owns shot list, post-shoot upload
Peter	On-camera prompter, fact-checker (pulls phone for receipts), closing-tag voice
Tony	On-camera client, speaks naturally, no memorizing
Ashen	Remote, EOD upload receipt, edit pipeline spinup

CUT 1 — "Too Busy to Count"

Format: Conversational dialogue (mirrors Spark's 145-day longest-running ad) Length goal: 15-20s in edit Talent: Tony + Peter, both visible Setup: Active pool site behind them. Rebar, tile work, equipment in frame. Lavs on chest, wind covers on. Track: C — DM funnel Bible angle: Story (MS31, MS35) | Hook #41

How it goes

Peter prompts. Tony answers naturally. Peter pulls phone for receipts.

PETER: "Tony, how many leads we sent you last month?"

TONY: [downplay, hedge — "honestly bro, I lost count," "a lot," "more than I can take"]

PETER: [pulls phone, glances down] "I'm seeing about {actual number} in our log."

TONY: "Yeah, I'd have to look. We've been swamped."

PETER: [turns to lens] "See, this guy's too busy with jobs to count the leads. That's a good thing."

Coaching for Tony

- Don't memorize. Just talk to Peter like you're at lunch.
- Hedging IS the proof. Don't try to give a confident number.
- "I don't remember" is gold. That's the whole point.
- Casual profanity OK if natural. Reads as real.

Coaching for Peter

- Pull a real number from your phone (GHL log or text). Show your screen briefly if natural.
- Closing tag deadpan to lens. Half-smile after.
- You're the receipts-keeper, not the salesman.

Body overlay (added in post)

-  Real San Diego contractor |  Booked through summer |  90 exclusive leads in 12 weeks

CTA

"DM us 'SCALE'."

Takes target

3 takes minimum.

CUT 2 — "How Long, How Much"

Format: Conversational dialogue Length goal: 20-30s Talent: Tony + Peter Setup: Pool site, possibly different angle (move so a finished section or completed deck is in frame)

Track: A — lead form Bible angle: Story + Proof Stack (MS8, MS35)

How it goes

PETER: "How long have you been working with us, Tony?"
TONY: [natural answer]
PETER: "How's the calendar looking now compared to before?"
TONY: [natural – fuller, picking jobs, etc.]
PETER: "How much new work has come through us, ballpark?"
TONY: [hedge, lowball – "a few jobs," "I'd have to check the books"]
PETER: [phone glance] "I think it was {figure}. We can pull the breakdown later."
TONY: "Could be. Either way I'm not complaining."
PETER: [to lens] "That's the difference. Real ads, real San Diego homeowners, real work in front of them."

Numbers rule

Only say a dollar figure on camera if Dani and Ashen can verify from records that night. "Either way I'm not complaining" is the safety phrase if a number gets dropped in edit.

Takes target

3 takes.

CUT 3 — "Phone Before / Phone Now"

Format: Conversational dialogue (pain → contrast) Length goal: 15-25s Talent: Tony + Peter Setup: Active site preferred (visual contrast to "phone working") Track: A — lead form Bible angle: Problem → Solution (MS25 paint success/failure)

How it goes

PETER: "What was the phone like before we started?"

TONY: [natural – slow, off-season pain, referrals only, tire-kickers]

PETER: "What were you doing to fill it?"

TONY: [natural – referrals, neighbor word-of-mouth, hoping spring would save the year]

PETER: "And now?"

TONY: [natural – booked, picking which jobs to take, saying no to small ones]

PETER: [to lens] "That's what it looks like when the phone works for a contractor. If you want the same thing for your business, link's below."

Coaching for Tony

- Be specific about the "before." Pain points sell. "I was wondering if I needed to lay off a guy" is gold.
- Don't sell. Just tell the story.

"Tap below."

Takes target

2 takes.

CUT 4 — "Summer Locked Up"

Format: Tony solo monologue Length goal: 15-20s in edit Talent: Tony alone Setup: In his truck OR sitting at the edge of a finished section. Phone-shot is fine. Peter off-camera. Track: A — lead form Bible angle: Identity + Founder Confession (MS18, MS31, MS6)

Prompt before rolling

Peter says off-camera: "Tony, just tell the camera in your own words why any contractor in 2026 needs marketing. Don't sell us. Speak generally — to GCs, HVAC guys, roofers — not just guys in your trade."

What we want him to say (his own words, NOT a script)

- Home service work is feast-or-famine. Summer is the year.
- He used to think marketing was for other people / a luxury / unnecessary
- Referrals weren't enough — they don't fire when you need them most
- Once Scale SD started running ads, he locked up summer by April
- He recommends it to other contractors now (any trade)

The line we're hoping he lands

"Times are changing. If you don't keep up, you're going to get left behind."

If Tony naturally arrives there or close, gold. Don't force it.

Coaching

- Casual profanity is fine if natural. Reads as real.
- 4-5 takes minimum, each ~30-45 seconds. Edit will pull the strongest 15-20s line.
- No script. No memorizing.
- Address other trades, not just his own. "Contractors like me" not "pool builders like me."

CTA (added in post overlay)

"San Diego contractors. Lock up your summer. DM 'SCALE'."

Takes target

4-5 takes minimum.

CUT 10 — "Tony Tagline Tag"

Format: Tony solo, ultra-short punch Length goal: 5s exactly Talent: Tony only Setup: Direct to lens, finished pool or active build behind him Track: All — used as closing tag on multiple ads in edit Bible angle: Identity + Brand Personality (MS50, MS44)

Spoken — three options to film (we pick best in edit)

If Tony has his own brand tagline, use it. If not, use one of these:

- A: "World Pools builds. Scale SD markets. That's how summer locks up."
- B: "I build the pool. Scale SD fills the calendar. Easy."
- C: "World Pools Inc. Real builds. Real ads. Real summer."

Coaching

- 5 seconds.
- Confident. Direct lens. Slight smile OK at the end.
- This becomes a closing tag we paste onto Cuts 1, 2, 3, 7 (Victor shoot), 8 (Victor shoot) in edit.

Takes target

6 total (2 takes × 3 versions). If Tony has his own tagline he wants to use, add 2 takes of that as a 4th option.

B-ROLL CHECKLIST (at Tony's pool site)

Most are 5-10 second clips. Dani: prioritize the first 7.

- ☐ Wide shot of full pool build, daytime
 - ☐ Rebar / steel cage detail close-up
 - ☐ Hands working — tiling, troweling, plumbing connection
 - ☐ Pool equipment (pump, heater, lights) detail
 - ☐ Finished pool with water in it (HERO SHOT)
 - ☐ Tony walking onto / through the site
 - ☐ Peter walking up to the site
 - ☐ Peter's hand on phone with texts/leads visible (for Cuts 1, 2 fact-check)
 - ☐ World Pools Inc truck or branded vehicle if available
 - ☐ License # visible if on truck or signage
 - ☐ Slow pan across the build
 - ☐ Tony giving instructions to a crew member (action shot, no audio)
 - ☐ Wide drone-style phone walk around the perimeter
